We respectfully dedicate this issue of "Family Findings" to the memory of HOWELL LEE DAVIDSON who passed away the 7th day of December 1978 after a long illness. Mr. Davidson was a charter member of this organization and a resident of Bolivar, Hardeman County, Tennessee. We extend our deepest sympathy to his widow, Mrs. Faye Tennyson Davidson, also a charter member of our Society. Mr. Davidson along with his wife made a great contribution to the Mid-West Tennessee Genealogical Society, and his presence will be greatly missed.

OBITUARY - MARY CASH CHEAIRS

Mrs. G. P. Robertson, 38 Shadowlawn Drive, Jackson, Tennessee 38301 submitted the following obituary, transcribed from an old newspaper clipping, and other family information, some taken from The Messenger and Intelligencer, Wadesboro, N. C., 27 August 1936, and some from her own records.

DEATH OF A REMARKABLE OLD LADY.

Mrs. Mary Cash Cheairs died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Higgs, at Hickory Valley, Hardeman County, Tenn., on the 4th of March, 1891. She was eighty-four years and four hours old and died at the time she predicted, and was in full possession of her mental faculties until the very last. Mrs. Cheairs' maiden name was Cash. She was born at Wadesboro, S. C., received a superior education and graduated at the famous old Moravian school, at Salem, N. C. She came of revolutionary stock, being a near relative of Patrick Henry, and a grand daughter of Col. Patrick Boggan, of revolutionary fame. She was related to Gen. Zachery Taylor; and was a cousin to Capt. May, who so distinguished himself under Taylor at the head of a troop of dragoons at the battle of Resaca de la Palma. She was also related to the Ashes, Hamptons, Wades, Picketts, Hammonds, Howzes and other prominent old families of North Carolina.

Early in life she was thrown in contact with the leaders in politics and social life in her native state and acquired an interest in public affairs that remained with her as long as she lived. She had a most remarkable memory and could recite whole pages from the Latin, Greek and English classics, and could relate minutely many incidents that happened over sixty years ago.

She married Mr. John Cheairs in North Carolina and moved to Hardeman County, where the greater part of her life was spent. The husband died many years ago, long before the war. After that she lived with her children and relatives in different parts of the South. It is not long since she visited a son in Texas, and only a few months ago she visited relatives in Memphis, coming and going alone. Her vivacity was somewhat wonderful. She played on the piano, sang little scotch songs, told stories and walked and talked with all the glee of a girl. But she lived out more than the allotted span of life and at last laid down to fall asleep in death. Within the present year she was able to write letters and to make affidavit to testimony relating to an estate supposed to be coming to the Cash family from a distant part of the country. She furnished the facts, dates, circumstances, names and particulars as clearly as if speaking of events not a year old.

Col. George Davidson Boggan of this county, her double cousin, is the last of her schoolmates and contemporaries, and he is nearly as old as she was. She was a sister of the late Col. Benjamin Cash, of Forest H____, in this county, and therefore an aunt of his children, Mr. Robert J. Cash, of Germantown, and Mrs. Drake, Mrs. Bledsoe and Mrs. J. Harvey Mathes of this city. Few such old people as she remain in our midst to remind us of past generations. Such landmarks are rapidly disappearing and will soon be gone.
